Priorities Addressed	Participation in democratic life
Objectives and Description	The programme aims to make a bridge between countries with a long tradition and expertise in palliative services and countries where this area is still in development. We focus on core elements in Palliative and end-of-life care such as ethical frameworks, interdisciplinary approach, cultural differences, complementary care and well-being and good examples of practice.
Methods and outcomes	The programme is build on interdisciplinary cooperation between workers in health and social services. The diversity of partners from Europe, United States but also from poor resourced countries is essential in all hands-on workshops and discussions.
